

Saturday night tragedy claims life of Hondo teenager

Frances Lorraine Finger, 17, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Everett B. Vincent, lost her life Saturday night about 11:15 in this truck-auto accident. The two vehicles collided at the intersection of FM 689 and New Fountain Road. Miss Finger was riding in a pickup truck which was also occupied by David Kempler, 20, of Von Ormy. Officers said they were unable to determine who was driving the pickup. Both young people were thrown from the vehicle. Officers said a witness reported that the westbound pickup ran a stop sign and slammed into a northbound test car driven by Wesley C. Burnett of Devine. Burnett's test car (11) was demolished, but he suffered only minor injuries, according to Sheriff C. J. Hitzfelder. Kempler was taken to Medina Memorial Hospital and air lifted by MAST helicopter to Wilford Hall Hospital in San Antonio where his condition was undetermined. The impact ripped the cab off the pickup (center) leaving it near the middle of the intersection. The pickup bed, frame and part of the hood (r) came to rest off the right of way about 40 feet northwest of the cab. The truck engine was torn from its mounts, and came to rest about 15 feet north of the cab in the roadway. Earlier this week Kempler was said "... to be doing as well as can be expected."

Voters choose mayor, 2 councilmen Saturday

Hondo voters will choose a mayor and two councilmen Saturday. In addition to the city election, Hondo Independent School District voters will cast ballots on three trustees, all of whom are unopposed.

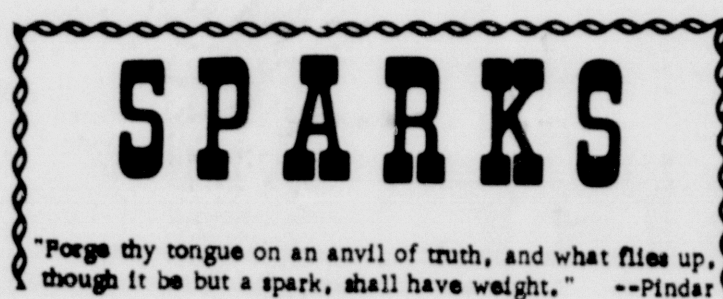

Mayor George L. Brucks is being challenged in his bid for re-election by contractor Will J. Ney, Jr.

Brucks, a local insurance agent, defeated Ney and Albert Rowlett last year in a race to fill a vacancy created when Jerome Decker resigned to become Medina County Judge. Ney ran second in that election.

Incumbent A. D. Patterson faces two challengers in his race for re-election to Place

No. 1. They are Mrs. Linda Weaver, a Medina Memorial Hospital nurse, and Tom E. Santos, part owner of a Hondo electrical firm. Patterson is a Universal Rundle executive. Albert Vance, incumbent councilman in Place No. 2, is not seeking re-election. Batt-

ELECTION TIME

Albert Vance tells me I was a little rough on candidates for City office last week. Perhaps he is right. Maybe they are telling certain groups or friends what they want to accomplish if elected. And they did make an announcement when they filed for the offices.

But I was talking about goals and objectives. Why are they running for office? Do they have a personal axe to grind? Or do they have some ideas which they wish to push through for the benefit of the entire town?

And whether they (and I mean all candidates) realize it or not, if elected they will be the representatives of ALL the people of Hondo, not just one group, one faction, or just friends and relatives.

Hondo has some problems. I don't care how many people tell me it doesn't. I will agree that our problems are not as great as those in other cities, but unless they are solved now they will become worse.

And for the sake of those who like the ostrich love to hide their heads in the sand, Ill wind?

'Tis an ill wind that blows no good.

And that's even true of the costly drought gripping Medina County and much of Texas.

Because of the dryness, a serious threat of the annual screwworm infestation has been avoided.

Medina County Agricultural Agent Glenn Bragg said ideal conditions for screwworms are hot, wet weather.

Hot weather, we've had, notes Bragg, but wet... well, wet weather, we certainly haven't had.

New laws enforced

Hondo's new, revised city ordinances contain two new laws which police have been instructed to begin enforcing immediately.

One is a "public storage" ordinance, and the other requires permits for parades.

The former forbids leaving autos, farm equipment and similar vehicles on public streets for more than 72 consecutive hours. After that time, authorities will tow the vehicles away.

The latter requires that applicants for parade permits

Airplanes are back on the ramp at Hondo Airbase and in the long run this will mean additional personnel at Gary Aircraft Corporation and an economic shot in the arm to the Hondo area.

Gary has recently been awarded a contract with Warner Robbins AFB for IRAN (inspection and repair as necessary) of C-154 aircraft, and the work will be accomplished at the Hondo plant.

Facility Manager Charlie Hutcherson said Tuesday that "some 14 planes are scheduled in here within the next three months and others will follow."

The initial C-154 arrived Friday and Gary personnel swarmed over it immediately to begin the IRAN.

Industrial salute

This is Texas Industry Week in the state, and local merchants and businesses salute the industries who help pay the bills around the area.

Industry in the area runs from the large ones like Gary Aircraft Corporation, School Districts and Agricultural Industry, Universal-Rundle, Automotive Research Test Tractk, D' Hanis Brick and Tile to smaller ones like Chapman Grain, Mumme's and others.

Extremely important to a city are the small industries that employ five to 10 people.

Industries provide money for the economy, support of civic and charitable projects, and people who take part in church, civic and charitable organizations.

This issue of the Anvil Herald salutes the industries through the advertisements of various concerns.

One getting off, one getting on

These are some of a group of Hondo teenagers turning out Saturday morning to help clean up vacant lots and other areas in the community. Teenager Mike Jones had asked permission of the city council at its last regular meeting to clean up trash spotted in an earlier survey of the city by youngsters. Councilmen not only approved, but provided trucks and drivers for the Saturday morning clean-up.

Disaster lurks in county

Medina County faces a major economic disaster unless the area gets substantial rainfall before May 1. The dire prediction was made this week by Medina Agricultural Agent Glenn Bragg. Bragg noted that the county has already suffered a $2 million loss. The figure, he said, is conservative, and includes the loss of almost all the county's small grains, plus the added expense of feed purchases forced upon live-stock producers.

Continued drought through April, Bragg said, would cost the county half of its normal annual income from agriculture; a loss that would easily

Red tape slows hospital Medicare

Medicare re-certification for Medina Memorial Hospital is still coming, administrator Melvin Finger said this week. Finger said the hospital's application - which he has been assured will be approved - is creeping through red tape. The administrator said he's been told to expect official notification of re-certification within the next two weeks.

One indication that the official word will soon reach hospital authorities lies in the receipt of notification that the hospital's provider number will be the same as before certification was listed.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

We were concerned over Poerner's mail bag stuffing stunt, but we are even more surprised over his proposed amendment to House Bill 730 to tax the severing of timber (House Journal, March 3, 1971, pp. 878-81). It appears to me that this unnecessary tax on cedar posts, creosote posts and penta-treated posts would have been passed on to the people as increased operating costs, higher costs in home building, and even in building wooden fences around our homes.

What lobby group within this district could pressure Representative Poerner into proposing this added tax burden?

Sincerely,
Bruce T. Foster

The Hondo Museum is in great need of articles for its Annual Auction, and I'd guess the articles would come from Primitives, Authentiques, Antiques, Early Attic, Early Texan, Ecclesiastical pieces, Wares, Junque (Junk), Front Attic.

Back-up high garage, stuff saved by "papa and mama", house furnishings - torn, bad need of repair, cast away hobbies, broken, bent, repairables, as well as stuff that you should have thrown away a long time ago, when you were little.

Some wheres in the classifications comes some 4000 items. Give to Hondo Museum Auction of May first, 1971. Since I still count myself in as a Hondo-ite and haven't an item like these, I'm donated $10.00 cash.

Dear Sir:

If we may refer to an old Axiom, April showers bring May flowers.

Why not have some "April flowers"? Certainly, they won't look "foolish". Get it?

For April, 1971 rainfall will be below normal. Showers should occur between 1st and 5th and return again from 12th to 18th. This should carry us to the end of the month, and then it "may" rain. No question mark (?).

You may recall our prediction in Hondo Herald (May 1970) that we would have rain between 12th and 15th (moon change - 1st quarter) 4:26 a.m. Wednesday, May 13th. On May 14th it rained 6.40 inches.

In spite of our exact prediction, we were not happy, for it brought destruction to some crops - oats in particular. When you see the loss of crops and property damage come to friends and neighbors it hurts. And, we ask, is it worth it?

Bank loan explained

By John H. Poerner, State Representative, District 49

The article appearing in the San Antonio Express Tuesday, March 23, indicating my loan from the Hondo National Bank in the amount of $1,000 deserves further comment. As an elected official, I think it is my duty to fully explain the reasons for the loan. With the many problems of the Texas Legislature in the involvement of State Officials in various categories of financing I have found the public to be very apprehensive of State Officials' involvement with banks. The facts are as follows:

On April 29, 1970, I was involved in a campaign for reelection as State Representative in the Democratic Primary of the 49th Legislative District of Texas. There are four radio stations and nine newspapers and, other than highway billboards, this is the only forum for communication with the voting public. I placed political ads in the newspapers and prepared campaign tapes for the radio stations at considerable cost. I have restricted my campaign contributions to people from my district and consequently I did not have sufficient campaign money to pay for these items in advance. Even though I had, on deposit, several times the amount of loan in the Hondo National Bank, in various accounts, I elected to secure a loan for a short period of time so that I would not mingle my personal funds with my political campaign monies.

I will repeat what I think are problems in Hondo.

First we have a housing problem. There are people in Hondo living in housing that is so far below standard that it should be condemned. As human beings they deserve better. And the only way they will get better housing is for the City Council to take the initiative and support some type of housing program.

We need more street lights all over town and especially in the north side. Street lights provide more security for homes and businesses and lessen the possibility of prowlers and would be burglars.

We need more paving. I know that the property owner must pay a portion of street paving. But I believe that the City Council could come up with a program that would enable more people to be able to pay their share. Other cities have done it and eliminated all their dirt streets; there is no reason Hondo can't do it.

These are only a few of the reasons why I believe candidates should talk to the people and tell them how they stand on these and other issues.

A CONCERNED CITIZENRY

On the other hand you have more than four fingers and a thumb. You have need for a concerned citizenry. You have need for a citizenry that will go to the polls and declare in a loud vote just what candidates they feel should hold the offices.

Yet, I am afraid that Saturday will be a carbon copy of so many city elections in Hondo. A few citizens will cast a ballot, but the majority will repeat their performances of the past. They will either go fishing or stay home. They could care less what happens to their city when it comes to exerting enough energy to drive down to City Hall and mark a ballot.

I hope that this year Hondo residents prove me wrong. I hope they get mad enough at me or someone or something to become concerned about what is happening and what can happen to our city. I hope they go to the polls in bunches.

THEY JUST KEEP GROWING

I had a man tell me Monday that he is having fun growing a mustache for Museum Day. I don't know about the fun but I do know that more and more men are joining in game to help bring attention to Museum Day on May 1.

John Wentz has suggested, and I believe it might be a great idea, that we award some kind of prize for mustaches. We haven't thought about any categories like shaggiest, neatest, blackest, longest, etc., but I bet we can put our heads together and come up with something.

People like Bob Peden and Jesse Carrlon make me almost angry. I have struggled for three weeks on my almost unnoticeable growth and yet these two began last week and have by-passed me like I was standing still. And come to think of it, that must be what mine is doing--standing still.

amount to $10 million. Without rainfall this month, Medina County stands to lose its grain sorghum crop, which would mean a $5 million belt in the pocketbook. Complete loss of the county's broom corn crop will dig another half million dollar hole in the county's agricultural income.

In addition, livestock producers will have to reduce their herds which may well drive beef prices down.

Most of the nation's grain sorghum is produced in Texas, and much of the state's grain sorghum crop land lies in a drought zone, Bragg noted. This means higher feed prices later on for livestock producers.

All in all, the county's livestock industry stands to lose another million dollars if the dearth of rain continues.

"We can plant milo through April," Bragg said, "but after April 15th, we're taking a chance on a hot, dry summer and a sorghum midge problem."

"In addition, our yields will be down. "If our grain sorghum isn't in the ground by May 1 with a good rain, our production will fall by 75 per cent or more."

Bragg said a few grain sorghum farmers have put their seed in the ground, and hope for rain. However, he said the majority of dry land farmers have not planted.

Most of the county's corn crop is irrigated, Bragg noted, but even so, reduced yields are expected if the drought continues.

Gov. Preston Smith visited some South Texas counties recently, but a list of those he considered in need of emergency relief did not include Medina.

Bragg said the Medina County Disaster Committee met last Thursday, declared the county a disaster area, and requested that the federal government make a similar declaration.

The agent said the committee should receive an answer in three to four weeks.

If the request is granted, low interest loans would become available through the Farmers Home Administration for farmers' and ranchers' operating costs.

Although interest rates on such loans would be "low", there is no set rate, an FHA spokesman said Tuesday. Each month the rate is set by directive from the FHA in Washington, D.C., the spokesman said.

Floyd Smith, executive director for the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee said details will be announced as soon as they become available following federal declaration of the emergency situation.

Meanwhile, U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts continue to say, "No rain in the forecast."

Chapman is a former councilman associated with Chapman Grain, Inc. He was defeated two years ago before councilmen ran for specific places.

Rodriguez is a civil service worker at Kelly AFB, and is attending San Antonio College. In the Hondo ISD trustee election, the three unopposed candidates are Dr. Judge E. Sandusky, Jack Been, and Lloyd Hardt.

Dr. Sandusky and Been are incumbents. Hardt seeks election to the seat held by Tom Kuykendall who is not running for re-election.

Rampaging railroad car clobbers Mumme's

A switch engine slammed a box car into a railroad car full of feed being unloaded at Mumme's east of Hondo about 11 a.m. Tuesday (today), causing an estimated $6000 to $8000 damages.

Two men unloading the car escaped injury.

According to Albert Rowlett, the car full of feed was spotted at an unloading door, and was connected to the warehouse by an unloading ramp.

Natalia city incumbents seek election

The following candidates are seeking re-election in the City of Natalia election to be held on April 3:

B. C. McDonald, mayor, and Claud Williams, Guy D. Redus, Jimmy Linehan, councilmen.

"All candidates, having completed one term in office, express a progressive attitude toward the betterment of the city and surrounding area," according to Mayor McDonald.

Rusty Beard and Jesus De Leon had unloaded about half the car, Rowlett said, when Beard left the car to enter the warehouse. He heard the high squeal of a railroad car on a curve, looked up the track, and saw the car coming at higher than normal speed.

Beard yelled a warning to De Leon, Rowlett said, and both men ran clear of the area.

The oncoming car slammed into the parked box car, knocking it about 120 feet down the track. A huge supporting girder of the warehouse was ripped loose by the loading ramp, dumping stacked grain to the warehouse floor and out onto the tracks.

Damage to the building was estimated at from $6000 to $7000, and $1000 to merchandise.

Sheriff bags gamblers

Seven Devine men pled guilty to gambling charges and paid $50 fines each, after ter officers raided Chacon's Lounge in Devine about 9 p.m. Sunday. Another man, Joe Pena Chacon, posted $2000 bond after being filed on for permitting his premises to be used for gambling, a felony.

Bond was set by Hondo Justice of the Peace Harold Her-ring, who also levied fines against the seven caught shooting dice in the raid.

Fined were Ray Gallegos, Arturo P. Ramirez, Avarado Velasquez, Arturo Gallegos, Othond Gonzales, Frank Covarrubia and Armando Vela.

Sheriff C. J. Hitzfelder, who led the raid, said the lounge had been under investigation for several months.

Joining him in raiding the establishment in the northern edge of Devine on US 81, were chief deputy Floyd Williams, deputy James Ross, Devine city marshal Ray Macias, highway patrolman Leonard Lewis, and an unidentified Texas Ranger.

Hitzfelder said the seven were shooting dice on a pool table. Officers confiscated as gambling equipment the pool table and six pairs of dice, along with $21.25 in cash from the table.

The sheriff said there had been more money on the table at the start of the raid, but the $21.25 was all the Texas Ranger managed to confiscate before the rest disappeared in a scramble.

REAP matching funds pay over $21,000 in March in county

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program has paid out $21,057.00 in matching funds in Medina County since the program began March 12.

Floyd M. Smith, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said the total includes payments to 56 different farmers and ranchers for ten different practices on a 30 to 50 percent cost sharing basis.

Projects included improvement of vegetative covering, stock water dams and ponds, diversion terraces, brush control, land leveling and others.

Smith said his office is processing between 40 and 50 more requests for matching funds on conservation projects. A total of $54,820 was allocated to this conservation district for matching funds during this fiscal year.

The ACP as it has been in operation in previous years has been renamed and restructured as the Rural Environmental Assistance Program. The program goal is to improve the quality of life for all people by:

- (1) Preventing or abating environmental pollution;
- (2) Providing the maximum public benefit, and;
- (3) Conserving the land and related natural resources. The objectives of the program are to: (1) Prevent or abate agriculture-related pollution of water, land, and air for community benefit and the general public good; (2) Reduce the loss of agricultural soil, water, woodland, or wildlife resources; (3) Encourage enduring conservation practices; (4) Achieve annually established goals, objectives, and priorities in a manner consistent with community and National needs now and for the future; and (5) Limit and direct Federal cost - sharing assistance to those situations where a partnership between the public and farmers to benefit both is clearly proper and fitting.

To direct the REAP to these goals and objectives the Medina County Development Group has selected the following practices to be performed with cost-share assistance:

B-2 -- Improving or protecting vegetative cover on rangeland

B-3 -- Controlling competitive shrubs

B-5 -- Stockwater wells & Storage Facilities

B-7 -- Stockwater dams, pits or ponds

C-1 -- Establishment of permanent waterways

C-2 -- Establishment of permanent vegetative cover on problem areas

C-4 -- Constructing terraces

C-5 -- Constructing diversion terraces

C-12 -- Reorganizing farm irrigation systems

G-3 -- Wildlife ponds

I-1 -- Constructing lagoons for animal wastes

I-2 -- Constructing animal waste storage facilities

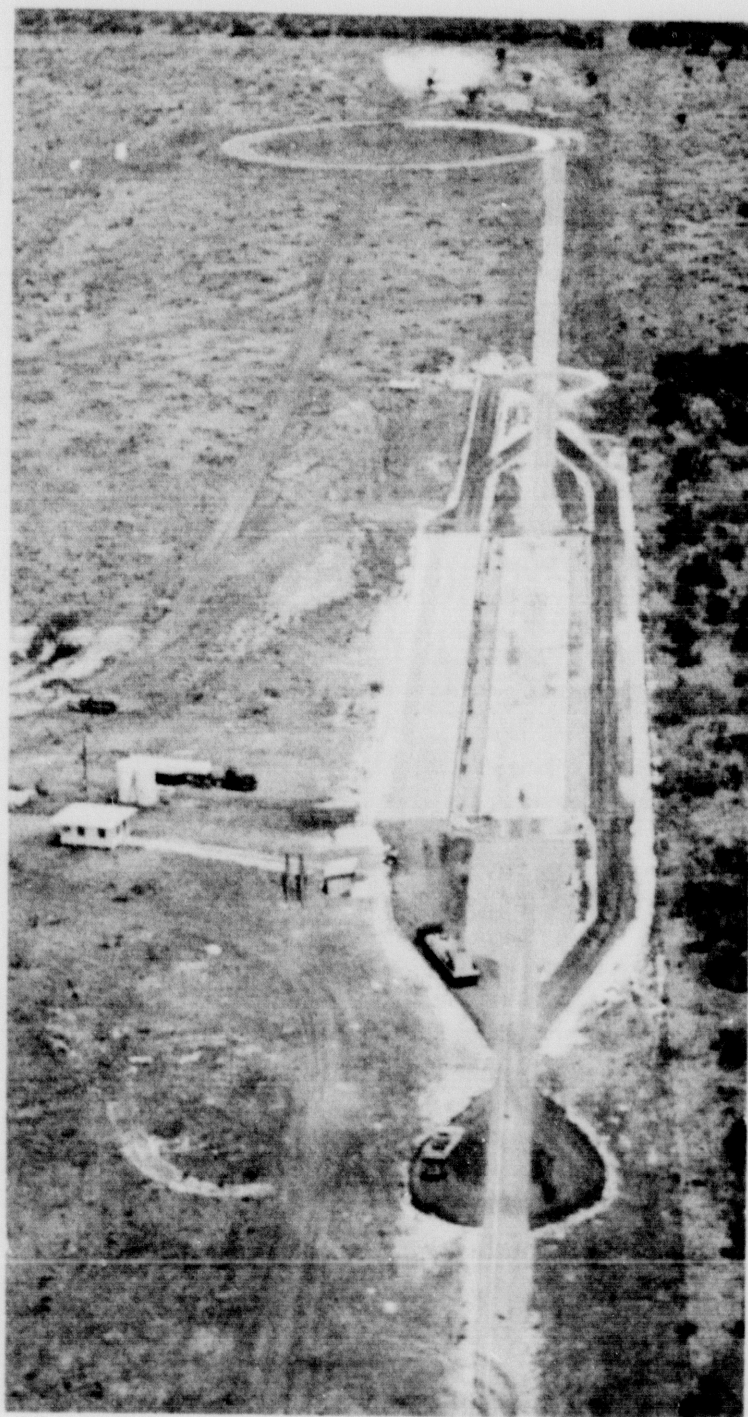

I-3 -- Diversion for management of animal wastes

F-2 (A-2) -- Establishment of permanent vegetative cover

F-2 (B-1) -- Improvement of permanent vegetative cover

F-2 (C-13) -- Leveling land

The county committee started accepting requests on March 12. Requests will be approved by the committee on the basis of priorities established by the County Development Group of practices in meeting the goals and objectives of the program.

Water levels decline
throughout the area

By Wm. H. Spice, Jr.,
Chairman, Board of Directors,
Edwards Underground Water
District

Because of the protracted dry spell many people have expressed concern over the underground water supply. Water levels have declined generally throughout the area, and of course, the greatest decline is in Bexar County where pumpage is greatest. But conditions in the reservoir vary widely, and while there has been a slight decline in water levels in Uvalde County, because of the proximity of the large recharge sources, primarily the Nueces River with its vast gravel deposits which store water and release it into the underground reservoir over a long period of time, the depth to water in wells in this area varies very little.

In Bexar County where there is the most pumpage, a cone of depression develops when water is not available to replace withdrawals and water levels often fluctuate several feet overnight even when rainfall over the area has been normal.

At New Braunfels, wells close to the Comal Springs have never reflected a significant change in elevation of the water surface, and in 1956 during the worst part of the most severe drought we have had, depth to water in the city's well in Landa Park was only 10 feet below land surface even though Comal Springs ceased flowing.

The important thing to remember is that as long as usage does not exceed the average annual recharge, and as long as the large springs in New Braunfels and San Marcos are flowing, the only way that lowered water levels affect us is in the cost of lifting water from a greater depth and in the necessity for resetting pumps if they have not been lowered far enough.

During the drought which ended in 1956, the chief difficulty that water users had was due to the fact that pump settings had been made without providing for decline in water levels. When water levels were at 612.5 feet above sea level (the lowest of record in San Antonio) the large well on Salado Creek in Ft. Sam Houston, as well as other wells along the southern edge of the reservoir, were still flowing.

As long as these wells continue to flow, and as long as water is discharged from Comal and San Marcos Springs, there certainly can be no shortage of water. And unfortunately, there is no way that we can slow down this discharge in order to save the water for later use when we may need it. When total withdrawals for pumpage between Brackettville and Kyle exceed the average annual recharge of 500,000 acre-feet of water per year, and the springs have stopped flowing, we will have a true reservoir. Water used from the reservoir would then be taken from the underground storage until it is replaced by years of high recharge. The amount of water in storage below elevation 612.5 feet is unknown and cannot be accurately estimated. However, it is obvious that the underground Edwards limestone formation, which is approximately 500 feet thick and from 5 to 15 miles wide over a distance of approximately 170 miles, and through which water moves in quantities great enough to provide for some 300,000 acre-feet a year discharge from Comal and San Marcos Springs, contains a substantial amount of stored water.

Baptists plan special youth program

A special Youth Celebration musical program will be presented at 7:30 Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church of Hondo.

Rev. Reid said the program has been presented in a number of churches in the state, and has been well received by both youth and adults.

"It has music all can enjoy and a message youth especially can 'tune in' on," Reid said. A fellowship period for all community youth will follow the program, and there will be refreshments and a talent hour.

The youth choir, under direction of Roy Glenn, will also attend morning worship services here at 10:55 Sunday.

State hogs quarantined

All hogs in Texas have been under quarantine since Monday, by order of the State Health Department.

The quarantine will continue for 60 days. It was brought about by a recent outbreak of hog cholera.

Hogs can be moved during the quarantine only for slaughter; by being sold from one farm to another with no diversion en route; to exhibition pens with permit; and move to feeder or breeder sales with permit.

Blue Jays play Sunday

The Hondo Blue Jays will open their baseball season against the Pearsall Tigers Sunday at 3 o'clock in Hondo.

Players should be at the park on 15th St. in east Hondo by one o'clock.

Briscoe praised

High praise has been given a former Devine resident, Ray Briscoe, currently an ag teacher at Roma High School.

Here in Hondo

The McWilliams were honored on their special day with an elaborate dinner party featuring 50th anniversary decorations. Guests at the dinner were the wedding attendants and guests who had been in the McWilliams' wedding party.

In a recent issue of the Rio Grande Herald in Rio Grande, managing editor Raul Trejo said in his column:

"It's not hard to believe that Roma took the championship honors at the recent Mercedes Livestock Show. When they came to our own Starr County Youth Fair, J. O. Valle, Ray Briscoe and company walked off with nearly every blue ribbon in the house."

"At Mercedes they took every blue ribbon and a few reds (second), and placed at least two in every division, against the whole Valley. Roma took 11 out of the possible 13 places. That's work . . . that's pride . . . that's Roma High School FFA."

Soil Conservation Service

District seeks honor

The Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation District has set its sights on top honors in the 25th annual Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards Program, according to Clarence P. Wurzbach, Rio Medina, district chairman.

An independent judging committee of conservation leaders will select the first and second-place districts in the state.

Each first-place district wins expense-paid, vacation-study trips for its outstanding landowner-cooperator and a member of the governing board.

The awards also include recognition of the outstanding cooperator who will be chosen from the 1,300 landowners who are enrolled in the local Medina Valley S&WCD program.

The Medina Valley S&WCD has participated in the awards program 15 times and was the state's first place winner in 1959 and second place winner in 1966. District directors are Clarence P. Wurzbach, Rio Medina, chairman; Harlan Wolff, Hondo, vice-chairman; Lloyd Hardt, Hondo, secretary-treasurer; Harold Stiegler, member, Hondo; and Frank Silvey, Devine, member.

Hondo radar weather station should be 'go' in mid-June

Commissioning of the new radar weather warning station in Hondo will tentatively take place about mid-June, according to L. R. Mahar, director, Southern Region National Weather Service, who inspected the Hondo site Tuesday morning.

Accompanying Mahar to Hondo were F. W. Barnett, deputy director, National Weather Service; and Joe Sassman, regional aviation meteorologist.

The trio flew into Hondo from Del Rio and was met at the airport by Mayor George Brucke and City Manager Fritz Leinweber.

At the station site they talked with contractor Herman Carlisle and learned that completion of the installation should be within five to six weeks.

"We lost a little time when the roof decking got lost," Carlisle said. "It was to be shipped by rail and we finally found it on a barge at Houston."

Mahar said that when the station begins full operation it will employ seven or eight personnel.

Following the site inspection, the three men were taken on a tour of Hondo and expressed a feeling that their "personnel should be very happy living in Hondo."

Small town news media praised by Poerner

By John Poerner

I cannot resist comparing the integrity and "straight-forward" approach of small-town news media compared to the big city dailies and mammoth syndicates of the news media of the nation.

I can recall, during the past 15 years, the pending council meetings, zoning planning boards, Chamber of Commerce and other meetings in various counties of South Texas at which the press was present and gave a most accurate accounting of the happenings. I cannot recall of any issue being distorted or twisted and, in many cases, the reporter would go to great pains to make certain that the facts were true and correct. This further investigation was normally performed at some expense to the publisher of the paper or the radio station.

Based on the statement by Will Rogers, "I know only what I read", it is most imperative today that the reporting on the issues in our state and nation be correct and factual when passed on to the people. The past week has brought to light the inaccuracy of state and national reporting on an issue in which I was personally involved.

The lively debate on the floor of the House in regard to Daylight Savings Time was climaxed when someone placed several sheets of newspapers in one of four mailbags filled with letters from throughout the State on the issue. I was not aware this had happened and, even though there were more than 5,000 letters in those mailbags, the only picture run statewide by Associated Press was the one showing Representative Sherman pulling a sheet of newspaper out of one of the bags.

This apparently led to national television running the statement "The Texas House of Representatives defeated the issue of Daylight Savings Time since all the mailbags were filled with newspapers instead of letters and postcards." Needless to say, I was most furious and I think the prank is inexcusable.

I don't mean to totally condemn the press and other news medias, they are a vital part of our governmental system. My comment, after a hard week on Capitol Hill in our State, is that I truly appreciate the small-town newspaper and radio station who reports accurately and refuses to change the facts in order to create a larger headline. People in the rural areas should be proud of the integrity of their press.

Hondo Public Library

New filing system helps

By Lottie Maw, Librarian

By using our Hondo Public Library-What do you do? Do you hesitate in puzzlement when you enter the library to find certain information on books for recreational reading? In your library are special locations for the following.

The card catalogue lists alphabetically books and other kinds of material. Each non-fiction entry is alphabetized under three different headings: author, title, and subject. Each card for the book will have the same call number. In the upper left-hand corner of each card is our call number, which gives the location of the book on the shelves. Our call number system has two parts: (1) The Dewey Decimal System Number and (2) the author's classification. Thus, it is easy for each patron to find what he or she desires and needs.

Again, we thank the Friends of the Library and our whole community for making it possible for us to have our new up-to-date card catalog file cabinet, new electric typewriter, and our beautiful new shelves. Just come to the Library and see what wonderful changes have been made and how many new books we have for you to read. Come see!

Another big surprise for our patrons - Guess what? We have our new book return drop or depository. It is wonderful and being used with great success - the return of many of our overdue books, magazines etc., is made possible. "A Big Thanks" for it and the many wonderful gifts given our Library, recently.

Register that bike

A bicycle registration will begin in Hondo Monday, April 5, according to Police Chief Jerry Williamson. It will be conducted from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week. Bicycle owners will need to have a registration form, like the one above, filled out. They will take it and 50 cents fee to main desk at City Hall where they will receive a tag and a seal for their bike.

They do not have to take the bicycle. "This drive is being accomplished to prevent theft of bicycles," Williamson said. "After a certain period of time, long enough to allow all bike owners to register them, bicycles without tag and seal will be checked thoroughly for ownership." Bike owners may clip the above form or pick up one at the City Hall.
